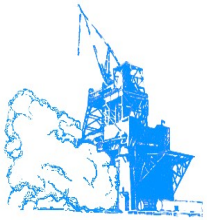
Stennis Space Center

2006 Hurricane Preparedness

Executive Council Meeting

June 8, 2006

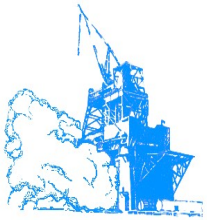
Emergency Shelters at SSC



Stennis Space Center

Stennis Space Center
is a
Shelter of Last Resort !!

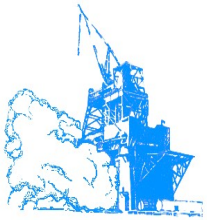
Major Change on Sheltering



Stennis Space Center

- NASA has entered into an agreement with the American Red Cross to staff major shelters (1105, 2105, and 2204)
  - American Red Cross would provide medical staff, public interface and security
- Other shelters in approval process and will be staffed by shelter managers
  - Employees and their families can shelter in their respective offices
- General public (IF the shelters are opened to the public) to be routed to buildings 1105, 2105 and 2204

Shelter Policy



Stennis Space Center

- Employees and their families can go to their offices if in an approved shelter
- American Red Cross rules apply
  - Families to bring their own food
  - No animals
- No family members can shelter in hazardous areas
- No private vehicles/campers/boats inside government buildings
- Building 1100 Cafeteria Will Not be in operation
- The Medical Clinic Will Not provide primary care

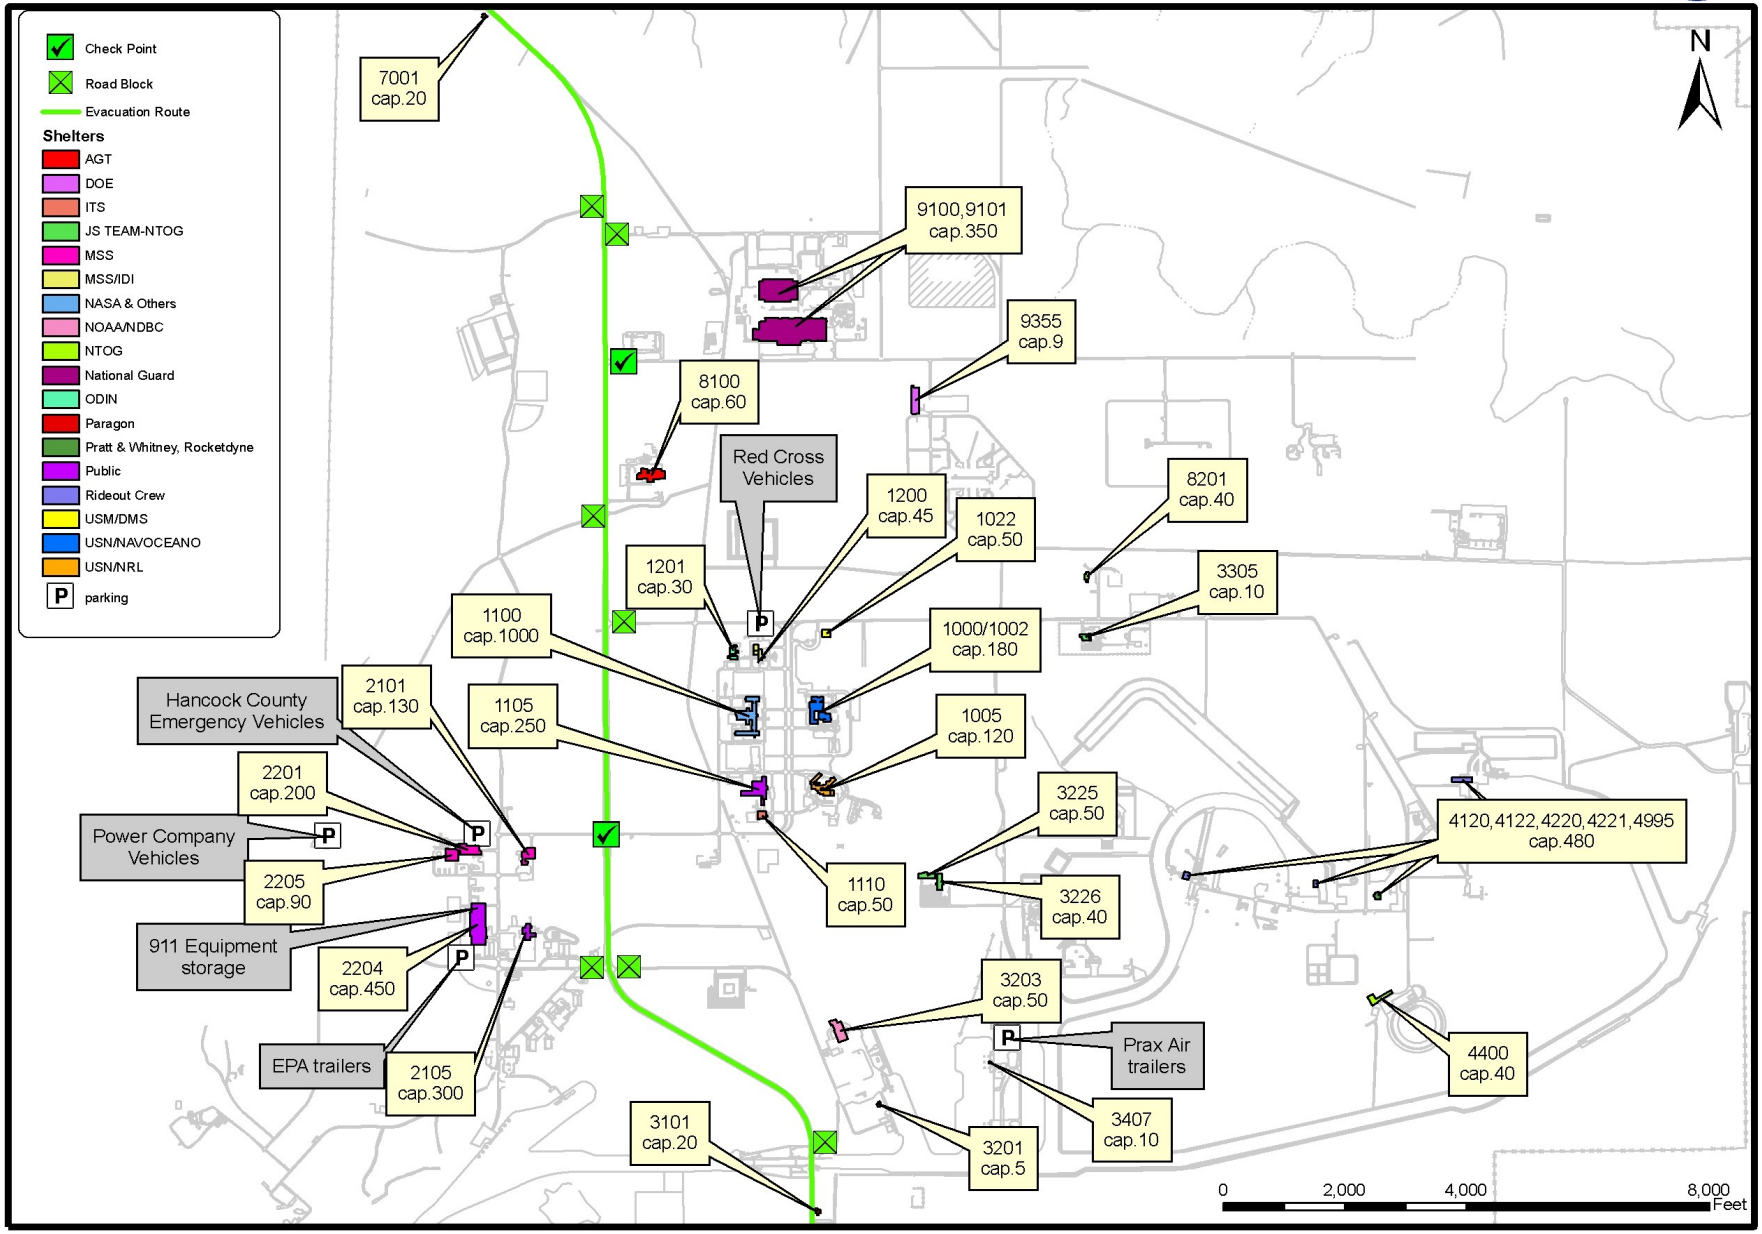
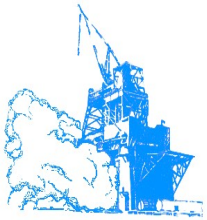
Emergency Shelters



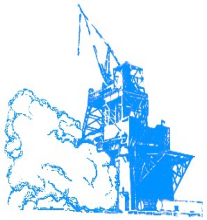
Incident Command



Stennis Space Center

- The Incident Command Post (ICP) Located in Building 1100
  - Back-up ICP Locations
    - Security Dispatch in Building 2201
    - Radio Operations in Building 1201
- New Location Next to Logtown Conference Room is under construction

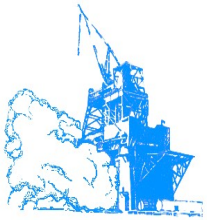
After the Storm



Stennis Space Center

- NASA call-in number: 877-776-4654
- Each company/agency should decide on a call-in number for their employees and provide that to NASA as soon as possible
- American Red Cross has designated recovery shelters in Pearl River County for those unable to return home
  - This will be for all people being sheltered at Stennis whether in American Red Cross staffed shelters or not
- American Red Cross will be staging personnel and vehicles before landfall at Stennis for response efforts after the storm

Open Items



Stennis Space Center

- Your Procedures and Call-in Numbers to Account for Personnel within your Agency/Company